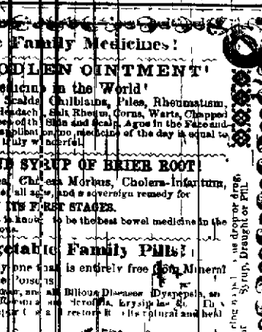
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT STOVE, LANTERN,

—AND—

NURSE-LAMP,

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right of manufacturing and vending as Pendot, recently that above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, and is found sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset, or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in case of sickness, is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, thereby giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say anything more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

TESTIMONIAL.

The following testimonials constantly received

Dr. Wilbor: Dear Sir—I have found on the expose of a long and extensive practice that the seeds of consumption may be found as among from a few individuals only, but that any spreads drain upon the physical constitution which induces decay. That a fever, or severe cold, and in rheumatic affections about great shortness of breath, some time the has become emaciated, and in short, all the symptoms of consumption, which are reproducing and destroying. Now, from my observations, I am convinced that the lime and soda in your Cod Liver Oil, and natural tonic, and that the lime and soda, especially the process of combination of the diseased cells of the lungs, have been the result under God, of my success in curing consumption. Having carefully examined these facts in my entire satisfaction as an extended practice, I do not hesitate to say to all afflicted with pulmonary complaints, that your Cod Liver Oil and Lime

AUGUSTA, Wednesday, 3 P M

The debate finished madness and vindictiveness of the leaders of the majority has been effectually exercised in bringing up their followers to the consummation of the most dangerous and fatal deed ever perpetrated by any political party in this country.

It has been determined that the guillotine shall do its bloody work. The vote in the Senate was taken this forenoon, upon the Address for the removal of Judge Davis, and stood yeas 25, nays 3. The nays were MORRILL of Kennebec, SHEPARD of Hancock, and HOWELL of Somerset. Butler of Franklin left town this morning, as it is said to avoid the vote. He said he did not want his name on such a record.

Goodwin of York made a speech, yesterday, in which, although he thought Judge Davis wrong in entertaining a constitutional question brought before the Court in an irregular manner, still he thought it improper to remove him for a mere mistake, made without corrupt motives, and without such a condition of things as evinced incompetency. Nevertheless, he backed down and voted for the Address, upon the miserable excuse that Judge Davis had written a private letter, saying that the Legislature had evidently prejudged his case. [This letter in some way got into the papers and was read in the Senate]

Mr. Farley spoke this morning, and in the course of his remarks, distinctly and repeatedly admitted that Judge Davis was not justly chargeable with incompetency, dishonesty, corruption, or wilfulness—Quite admitting away in fact, the whole case against him. For although he justified removal on the pretence that Judge Davis "held, and acted upon opinions which had brought about a conflict in the State," He did not deny that he held such opinions honestly, and it is well known that all conflict might have been avoided by the party in power by a simple resort to the decision of the full Court, by the Governor or the Legislature

The Address was taken up to the House at 11 A M. Talbot of Lubec made a harangue for the purpose of stimulating the passions of the majority up to the necessary point. This was partially accomplished last evening by printing Judge Davis's letter, which was written soon after the party caucus had so unanimously voted to proceed to the Address, and in which there is nothing which could operate upon the right or justice of the case

The Legislature will adjourn to-morrow, at the end of a one hundred days of recklessness, madness, and political stultification on the part of the majority

4 P. M The Address has just passed the House, yeas 81, nays 60

The Admission of Kansas as a Free State with its present Constitution.

The glorious news from Connecticut, following so closely upon that of Rhode Island and New Hampshire, points to more emphatically to the fact that the reign of sectionalism in behalf of slavery, has given place to the better prospect of true nationalism in behalf of freedom. It is appropriate now to ask the attention of the people of the free States to the propriety and necessity of invoking Congress to proceed at once to the admission of Kansas as a free State, under her present Constitution, according to the will of the people there.

It is due to the spirit of freedom, that this new people, on a virgin soil, long solemnly dedicated to freedom, now asking for admission as a State, should be at once admitted upon terms honorable to the sister States of the Union, in consonance with the long established compromise, and in accordance with the history of modern civilization. It is due to those hardy and gallant men, and their wives and children, who have gone forth from the free States, to establish a home on the fertile prairies of the West, that their prayer for admission to the family of States should be heard and speedily answered

Every citizen of a free State should feel a sympathy for those who are struggling to establish freedom over the rich domains of Kansas, and this sympathy is felt in a large degree, and ought, rightfully, to be expressed, in resolutions by public meetings, and in petitions to Congress by the people at large It seems to us that the present is a most favorable time for engaging in this work. It will do good to our worthy Representatives of the people, who have so nobly, and so gallantly and persistently stood up in Congress, with a spinal column as stout as Bunker Hill Monument, to hear the voice of the people going up to them in letters, in resolutions, and in petitions. Such action will give new encouragement to the settlers in Kansas to press forward in their enterprise, and will cause many now going West, to turn their steps into the interesting territory of Kansas. We ask the attention of our readers, one and all, to this subject, and recommend to the reformers all over the free States to put these suggestions into practical and effective shape.

The Boston Post is hot with a long leader arguing in favor of the renomination of Franklin Pierce for the Presidency. The Post labors very hard, and certainly not without plausibility, to persuade the South that the rejection, by them, of an faithful a servant, one who has proved himself so thoroughly devoted to Slavery would be the greatest folly and cowardice that could be bestowed upon the Abolitionists It brings up, very appropriately, the reasons which were thrown at the South when it rejected Webster, and let us hope that the friends of Slavery at the North would be discouraged by such a disregard of their services as the rejection of so consistent a champion of Slave power as Pierce would imply. Certainly those to accept favor in these circumstances, and if the South should do so ungrateful a thing as to reject his claims upon their gratitude, friendship, and manliness, Northern Democrats would be justified in withdrawing their support from such a party, and in leaving it to its fate.

A few suggestions on Farming.

The season is opening rapidly, and there is but little frost in the ground, and, so that farming may be commenced under good auspices. The rays of the sun have been unusually clear and warm of late, promising, according to the judgment of old farmers, a successful corn year

The experience of the farming community the last season, and the continued high prices of provisions, offer the strongest encouragement to all engaged in farming to go hopefully forward in cultivating the soil, bountifully to the well prepared soil. Much land was ploughed in Maine last season for the reception of crops the present season, and much attention was paid to collecting muck and other fertilizers, from which great advantages will doubtless be derived

One of the most important matters for farmers in Maine, is the preparation of the compost heap There are a great many fertilizers that may properly come into the compost, but they should be mixed wisely, and with reference to their several properties Stable manure, is of course known to every farmer as the basis and type of all fertilizers, but much of the virtue of this fertilizer may be and often is lost for want of proper treatment. The tendency of this manure is to ferment and throw off its fertilizing properties, and in this way, under ordinary treatment, at least, eighty per cent. of it is lost. To arrest this tendency, and at the same time to preserve the virtues for the growing plants, muck should be mixed with it in large quantities, at least four parts of muck to one of stable manure The muck checks fermentation, and at the same time collects and holds those gases which ultimately form ammonia, the king of all fertilizers. Dead animals make good fertilizers when properly disposed of, but if the farmer, forgetting the law which governs his manage heap, buries a dead animal in his heap or stable manure, he interferes to a great degree the tendency to fermentation, and may lose more by the rapid throwing off of rich gases than he gains from the animal. Instead of this, if the rapid fermentation of the dead animal is checked by being buried in muck, the fertilizing properties are saved.

Lime, hair, offal, urine, &c., all these articles make good fertilizers when composted, but if thrown on the land in their neutralize each other's influences and cause a waste which ultimately in many cases, would cost more than the crop would pay for. Ashes and plaster fix and hold the gases, and when placed near the gases, which when placed near the gases, and which ing plant give out their fertilizing treasures.

Urine, particularly of the horse, if properly managed, is a good fertilizer. But if a bed of muck is made to receive it, the virtues of the muck is made absorbed, and may be taken to the fields and used for plants

The principal office of lime is to neutralize acidity in the soil or in the decomposing vegetable matter, and to aid in decomposing vegetable fibre. Lime should never be employed, we think, for any other purpose.

Wood ashes are good for almost every purpose, but they should never be caused an escape of gases used in direct contact with seed or plant, but them be the more concentrated the better when combined with muck

This subject is too extensive to be fully discussed within the limits of a newspaper article, but these general hints may be of some practical service to young farmers, in avoiding some of the mistakes which are too often made.

It follows from the foregoing that every farmer should make several cords of compost heaps, according to the materials at his command, in order that every one of which, may be largely employed as a dressing for the crops, as well as a fertilizer. Thus, if a farmer has much sloppy water, and with this he can dissolve salt in it, slack lime and compost the lime mixture with his muck — This is a good manure to apply to the compost of lime and muck, and is very much in decomposing vegetable fibre. We could say much further at present, on this subject

The last half of April should be employed in grafting fruit trees, such as plums and cherries, also in making every necessary preparation for the spring labors in the field.

All the fencing must be completed, and crops are to be put in as soon as the land is in order, if not, the seed should be lost until these matters are attended to.

Early peas should be put in, and so too lettuce seed, and for the comfort of the family table.

Let all the seeds which have not been the first month be sown.

In order to furnish the table, take some time every variety and plant on a bed of warm soil, early spring, when conditions for the crop.

To obtain early for market, apples should be sent off the ground, it is of much importance to make the most out of the apple crop. You have them.

Much of the value of the apple crop depends upon the keeping well, other two months apart, and between the cabbages and Head Lettuce first sprout, over the ground, if not more than half they be proper the young fruit will be the squashes will not be destroyed by the bugs, which will be Hearing of Judge Davis.

Statement of Gen. S. J. Anderson.

PORTLAND, March 31, 1856.

HON. WOODBURY DAVIS, Portland—Sir In answer to certain inquiries made by you in reference to a conversation that took place at your Chambers on Saturday, Jan. 19th, I would state that in the afternoon of that day, in company with the Hon Joseph Howard and Daniel C. Emery, Esq., I did call at your Chambers—the Supreme Court having then been in session during the week, yourself presiding Our object was to notify you that Mr Emery had been appointed and qualified as sheriff of the County. Mr Baker had been employed as the officer of the Court up to that time Before calling upon you, we had notified Mr. Baker of the appointment of Mr Emery.

Mr. Howard, acting in behalf of Mr. Emery, did say to you, that on the following Monday Mr Emery would appear in open Court, and claim to be employed instead of Mr Baker, and that as Mr. Emery had been qualified, he thought it but just that you should be notified of the fact that he claimed his place as sheriff, and that he had thought it proper to give this notice, in order that the Court might be prepared to meet the question, when it should be presented. To the best of my recollection, no notice was given that the question would be argued, nor any intimation made that any hearing was expected.

You did express a strong reluctance to deciding the question, and gave as your opinion, that it ought, in the first instance, to be presented to the full court You also stated, that you had hoped that some amicable arrangement would be made between Messrs Baker and Emery relating to the business, until the opinion of the Court could be obtained—saying, that if your opinion should prove erroneous, the one who had not been employed, would seem to have no remedy In answer to this, it was suggested that the Legislature might be applied to for compensation

After some further conversation, the interview closed with the understanding that the question, so far as it related to the recognition of Mr Emery or Mr Baker, should be decided at the opening of the Court on the next Monday

I am very respectfully,
Your Obedient Servant
SAMUEL J. ANDERSON

Statement of Samuel Fessenden and others,

To the Honorable, the Senate of the State of the Maine

The undersigned, Members of the Bar of Cumberland County, respectfully bear testimony to the accuracy of the following statement of fact which transpired in the Court, holden by the Hon Woodbury Davis, for Cumberland County in January last, each of us being present at the time

Mr Daniel C Emery appeared in Court with his Commission duly signed by the Governor for the office of Sheriff of said County! Mr Seward Baker was at the time, and had been during the whole of the preceeding days of the term officiating as the Sheriff of the County, under a commission that was conceived to have been duly issued by the Governor of the State, who had preceded in office the Governor by whom Mr Emery's alleged commission had been issued

Mr. Emery, by his counsel, Hon Joseph Howard and Hon Nathan Clifford, claimed, in somewhat extended oral arguments, submitted by said counsel, to be the rightful and constitutional incumbent of said office of Sheriff, to the exclusion of the aforesaid acting Sheriff, and by virtue of his appointment and commission aforesaid, and of the alleged removal from office of the said Baker and that the question was one which, from the necessity of the case, the presiding Judge, above named, must decide, and could not avoid Both of said counsel spoke with earnestness and ability, alike as advocates, and upon the propriety and necessity of a definite decision of the conflicting claims to the office of Sheriff thus, presented to his notice.

When each of said gentleman had concluded his remarks, to whom Judge Davis listened with marked patience and respect, the Judge alluded to the newness of his own position upon the bench, and his anxious desire, to be guided by all the suggestive counsels of the members of the Bar, upon the principles involved in the question so raised, adverting, also, to the fact, that he was conscious of the much greater professional experience of several members of the Bar, than his own, and he therefore invited the expression of whatever opinion any gentleman might be pleased to offer him, on the subject, to aid in a correct judgment thereon.

The undersigned, Samuel Fessenden, responded to this invitation for advisment by Judge David, and urged, with great confidence, arguments and opinions, in respect to the alleged removal of Mr. Baker from the office of Sheriff, and in respect to the alleged appointment and commission of Mr. Emery to that office, in exact opposition to those which had been urged by Mr. Emery's counsel; and he maintained no less earnestly than did the latter, the total absence of Constitutional power in the Executive, under what he claimed to be the unrepealed clauses of the State Constitution in operation, to remove either the one officer, or appoint the other to fill a vacancy so created

No other member of the Bar proposing to participate in the discussion of the matter, and Mr. Emery's counsel having closed their arguments, Judge Davis remarked, in substance, that it was a matter of regret with him to be called upon to make a decision upon a question where no aid or light is derived from precedents bearing upon the subject, and had little time had been allowed him, to entertain opinion of his own, nor by consultation with other members of the Bench—that he had given the matter all the attention, amid the pressing duties of the present session, satisfied on the question involved, (it being the only question which he had supposed would be presented,) that he could not gladly for any reason, avoid the decision which he had expected to render, and which, he would not gladly for any reason, avoid the decision which he had expected to render, and which, he would not gladly for any reason, avoid the decision which he had expected to render, and which, he would

WASHINGTON, April 9.

SENATE.—The Senate this forenoon passed several bills from the court of Claims, making appropriations for the payment of certain claims therein named.

The discussion on the Kansas memorial was resumed.

Mr Butler opposed the motion to print on the ground that being arrogant in its language, to print it would be a violation of the rules of the Senate. He had no objections, he said, to Kansas coming into the Union either as a free or slave state, but he wanted her to enter honorably through the gate, and not climb over the wall or creep under it.

Mr Mason thought the memorial ought not to have been received at all, and should now move to lay it on the table.

Mr Seward desiring to be heard on the main question, the subject was postponed, and the special order resumed.

Mr Seward then took the floor, and went into an extended review of the whole Kansas difficulties. He first considered the peculiar position of Kansas to the Union; and the pledges given by Congress when the territory was organized. If at the people there should by law see fit to establish or exclude slavery, as they should decide for themselves, under the provisions of the United States. Mr. Seward recapitulated the acts of the border ruffians, and their usurping the legislature, and proceeds:

These high-handed transactions were consummated with the express purpose of establishing African slavery as a permanent institution within the territory by force, in violation of the natural rights of the people, solemnly guaranteed to them by the Congress of the United States. The President of the United States has been an accessory to these political transactions, with full complicity in regard to the purpose for which they were committed. He has adopted the usurpation and made it his own, and he is now maintaining it with the military arm of the Republic. Thus Kansas has been revolutionized, and she now lies subjugated and prostrate at the foot of the President of the United States, while he, through the agency of a foreign tyranny, established within their borders, is forcibly introducing and establishing slavery in contempt and defiance of organic law. These extraordinary transactions have been attended by civil commotions, in which property, life and liberty have been exposed to violence, and other commotions still threaten not only the territory itself, but also the adjacent States, with the calamities and disgrace of civil war. I am fully aware of the gravity of the charges against the President of the United States, which this statement of the condition and relations of Kansas implies. I shall proceed without fear and without reserve to make them good. The man in whom sacred trust must be drawn over the heads of all governments does not hold under jurisdiction. I shall first call the accuser into the presence of the Senate, then examine the witness which the President has made, and last submit the evidence by which he is convicted.

The people of Kansas know whether these charges are true or false. They have adopted them, and on the ground of the high political necessity which the wrongs they have endured and are yet enduring, and the dangers through which they have already passed, and the perils through which they are yet exposed have created. They have provisionally organized themselves as a State, to now here, by its two chosen Senators, and one representative, standing outside the doors of Congress, applying to be admitted into the Union, as a means of relief indispensable for the purpose of peace, freedom and safety.

Such is the new State is the President's responsible answer. The President of the United States, without waiting for the appearance of his accuser at the Capital, anticipates the accusations, and submitted this defence against them to Congress.

Mr Seward then examined the President's annual message of Dec. 10th, 1855, and his special message of the 24th January, 1855, commenting with great severity upon the statements therein put forth, and contrasting them with the historical facts as recorded, and verified in many instances by the President's own friends. He defended the Northern States against the charges of the President, that they were agitators, factious agitators, and enemies to the Constitution, and opposed the part of his speech as follows—I challenge the President, to the proof, the Senate of Massachusetts, although I have not the interest common to all Americans and a right in her good fame. What one corporate or social evil is there of which he is conscious and conscious also of inability to heal. Is it ignorance, prejudice, bigotry, vice, public disorder, poverty or disease affecting the minds or the bodies of her people? Turn she stands! surveys her universities, colleges, academies, observatories, primary schools, Sunday schools, penal codes, and penitentiaries. Descend into her quarries, walk over her fields and through her gardens, observe her manufactures of a thousand various fabrics, watch her steamers ascending every inlet and river in her own coast, and her ships displaying their canvas on every sea; follow her in their adventurous voyages from her own adjacent bays to every ocean under either pole, and then return and enter her hospitals, which cure or relieve suffering humanity in every condition and at every period of life, from the lying in to the second childhood, and which not only restore hearing and sight to the deaf and blind, and speech to the dumb, but brings back reason to the insane, teach even the idiot to think.

Massachusetts, sir, is a model of Statesworth of all honor—and though she was most conspicuous of all the States in the establishment of Republican institutions here, she is even more conspicuous still for the universal wisdom with which she has made them contribute to the welfare of her people, and the greatness of the public itself."

In behalf of New York, for whom it is my right and duty to speak, I deny the President's accusation.

After Mr Seward's speech Mr Clay obtained the floor, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House is still discussing the deficiency appropriation bills.

Shorter of Ala., made a rabid speech, contending that Massachusetts by her resolves was to the fugitive slave law, had placed herself out of the pale of the Constitution, and ought not to be represented in Congress.

Mr. Shorter said, not only Alabama but every Southern State had resolved that should any Northern State refuse to surrender fugitives from labor will take that remedy into their own hands. They will stand on the Cincinnati platform. If the democratic party, unfaithful to the reserved rights of State rights principle, should misinterpret the Presidential election, the Union will be saved but if Black Republicanism prevailed in favor of our constitutional liberty will have failed with him. The only way to preserve the Union is for the true conservative men of the north and represented by the national democratic party to unite with the south and wage unceasing war on the fanatics who would tear down the pillars of our Republic.

The Senate's amendments to the deficiency bill, appropriating $50,000 for surveying the northern boundary, $50,000 for surveying the boundary between Texas and New Mexico, and $10,000 for surveying the boundary between Texas and the United States, while the latter was under the control of Mexico, were concurred in.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the bill making appropriations for the payment of certain claims in Florida.

Mr Bocock, of Va., spoke in favor of the bill, and was followed by Mr Hall, of Mass., in opposition to it.

Mr Hall was followed by Mr Stanton, of Ohio, in favor of the bill, and the committee rose.

The House then adjourned.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8, 1856.

Messrs. C. & J. Marshall—Gentlemen: At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper-coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) JOHN D. FARDY & BRO.

LET US REASON TOGETHER

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

IT has been the lot of the human race to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially adapted to the relief of the WEAK, the NERVOUS, the DELICATE, and the INFIRM, of all climes, ages, sexes and constitutions. Professor Holloway personally superintends the manufacture of his medicines in the United States, and offers them to a free and enlightened people as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease.

These Pills Purify the Blood.

These famous Pills are expressly combined to operate on the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, the lungs, the skin, and the bowels, correcting any derangement in their functions, purifying the blood, the very fountain of life, and thus curing disease in all its forms.

Dyspepsia & Liver Complaint.

Nearly half the human race have taken these Pills. It has been proved in all parts of the world that nothing has been found equal to them in cases of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and stomach complaints generally. They soon give a healthy tone to these organs, however much deranged, and when all other means have failed.

General Debility. Ill Health.

Many of the most despotic Governments have opened their Custom Houses to the introduction of these Pills, that they may become the medicine of the masses. Learned Colleges admit that this medicine is the best remedy ever known for persons of delicate health, or where the system has been impaired, as its invigorating properties never fail to afford relief.

Female Complaints.

No Female, young or old should be without this celebrated medicine. It dooms and regulates the monthly courses, at all periods, acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children of all ages, and for any complaint—consequently no family should be without it.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases:

Asthma	Dropsy	Inward Weakness
Bowel Complaints	Debility	Lowness of Spirits
Colds	Fever and Ague	Piles
Consumption	Female Complaints	Stone and Gravel
Chest Diseases	Headache	Secondary Symptoms
Constipation	Indigestion	Tic Doloureux
Dysentery	Influenza	Venereal Affections
Diarrhœa	Inflammation	Worms of all kinds

Sold at the Manufactories of Professor HOLLOWAY, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers of Medicines throughout the United States, and the civilized world, in boxes, at 25 cts, 62½ cents, and $1 each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

GREAT American and Foreign Office,

—FOR—

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State Street, opposite Hilby St., BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1837, determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered. Inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid, back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him, within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency (not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any,) is unquestionably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The subscriber believes, and can prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL in the PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he should add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office in the land are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the European States and Europe, render him able beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventor.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

76 State street, Boston.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most informed and most useful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in bearing testimony that any person or couple of persons a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

[From the present Commissioner.]

"Agency, 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively employed in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most feasible and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,

PREMIUMS

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

L. SCOTT & CO., New York, continue to publish the following leading British Periodicals, viz:

2. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW (Whig)
3. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church)
4. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal)
5. BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory)
6. THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative)

THE great and unprecedented success which has attended the publication of these Periodicals in this country, during the past year, fully proves that they are duly appreciated by the reading community. Notwithstanding the enormous increase in the circulation of these works, the publishers have determined to make still further exertions to secure their universal circulation throughout the country. With this object in view, they have resolved to offer the following premiums to new subscribers:

For any one of the four Reviews, and Blackwood, or any two of the Reviews, or Blackwood and one Review, $5 00 per annum.

For any three of the four Reviews and Blackwood, or the four Reviews, $7 00 per annum.

For all four of the Reviews and Blackwood, $8 00 per annum.

For Blackwood and the four Reviews, $10 00 per annum.

For Blackwood and the three Reviews, $9 00 per annum.

Consecutive Premium Volumes cannot be furnished, except in a few instances, but in order to prevent disappointment, therefore, where premiums are not alone wanted, subscribers will please to state a few different works for premiums to choose from, and state which they may be furnished.

CLUBBING.

A discount of twenty five per cent from the above prices will be allowed to Clubs ordering four copies or more of any one or more of the above works. Thus four copies of Blackwood or of one Review, will be sent to one address for $3, four copies of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $20, and so on.

No premiums will be given where the above discount is made to Clubs, nor will the premiums in all cases be furnished unless the subscription money is paid in full to the Publishers, without recourse to an agent.

POSTAGE

In all the principal cities and towns these works will be delivered FREE OF POSTAGE. When sent by mail to subscribers residing in the United States, the Postage is but Twenty-four Cents a year for Blackwood, and Forty-two Cents a year for each of the Reviews.

Its Commercial Department, which has a determination to make it complete in the manner, and conducted together enterprise, justice and liberality on the part of the proprietors, will receive the attention of their editors to daily and careful revision, and the reading community, will meet with a corresponding increase of the editorial department of the Traveller. Our abundant means for obtaining NEWS include the receipt of journals from all parts of the United States, and the whole of our wide spread country, including the use of the magnetic telegraph lines which centre in the city of Boston. The commercial and financial reports of the Traveller, will be found to be full and reliable for home or foreign, or domestic points; and an experienced corps of reporters for every passing event of interest of a commercial local description. Unsparing efforts will always be made to reap the fullest advantages of these means, and to augment them as the increasing patronage of the Traveller shall require.

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT of the Traveller, which has received the unanimous commendation of its readers, and the public generally, for its careful and impartial notices of a review of new books, such as may afford the means of a reliable and useful guide to the selection of the publications of our teeming book presses.

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT embraces an original or carefully selected variety of original contributions from able writers, on domestic topics, from which our readers may derive improvement in the mind and affections.

THE COMMERCIAL INTERESTS

In addition to the regular prices current, reviews of the market and shipping interests, weekly reports are given of the merchandise, and the produce market generally, and of the cattle markets, under up by an experienced reporter expressly for the Traveller.
